Henry Spangenberg Says She Was Wailing on the Street for Somebody to Come and Help Her Father the stairs, when he came across a blaz-Morning of the Tragedy-News Agent's Testimony Corroborates That of Spangenberg and is Held to Be Important.

St. Paul, Oct. 23.-Henry Spangenberg, the fiance of Louise Arbogast, when called to the witness stand, flatly contradicted the testimony of was of little importance, as she said Ida Arbogast that she did not know her father had been injured when she penul before and after the murder of ran out of the house screaming the morning of the murder of Louis Arbogast, for which his widow is on Spangenberg lives at 297 West Seventh street, less than a block from the Arbogast home. He testified that he had been awakened early the morning of the tragedy in the Arbogast heme by hearing Ida wailing on West Seventh street for somebody to come and help her father.

This testimony is considered of utmost importance by the state for it welds the chain of circumstances going to show that the members of the Arbogast family were fully aware of the crime that had been committed, in a wreck on the Pan Handle divisbefore the alarm had been spread in the neighborhood.

Since the first day Ida Arbogast was put on the stand County Attorney O'Brien has been endeavoring to force an admission from her and her two disters that she knew of her father's injuries when she dragged her mother from the burning bed. The girl insisted that she did not see her father at all that morning and Minnie Arbogast later gave similar testimony.

The testimony of Henry Spangenberg, notwithstanding his intimate relations with the Arbogast family, does not go unsupported, for Isadore Abrahamson was more emphatic in his statement; that Ida went along the street screaming for somebody to help ber father. Abrahamson is the boy who owns a newspaper route which brings him in the vicinity of the Arbogast home and he was out looking after his carriers at the break of day on the morning of the murder. He is a bright looking boy, sixteen years

Young Abrahamson is regarded as one of the most important witnesses FATAL WRECK AT RED WING for the state in a number of particulars. He was the first person, outside the members of the family, to enter the Arbogast home the morning of the murder, and his testimony of how he came to the scene of the crime and what he saw there is regarded as endnently essential to the state's case.

I'pon entering the house, Abrahamson testified, he found three of the girls screaming and all excited in the hallway. They did not tell him what was wrong with their father, and he dashed up stairs when he saw the smoke. Half way up, Abrahamson said, he met Mrs. Arbogast on the stairs, and in his hasto he brushed her against the banister. "Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

New York, Oct. 23 .- Patrick H. Mc-Carren, st it : senator and Democratic leader of Brooklyn, d'ed at St. Catherine's hospital, Brooklyn, at 1.15 o'clock this morning, never having completely railled from the effects of an operation for appendicitis which was performed on Oct. 13. The senator himself realized throughout Friday afternoon and the earlier part of the night that his end was near.

Patrick Henry McCarren, by trade a cooper, by profession a lawyer and by vocation a politician, was one of the most picturesque figures in the political history of Greater New York. as long as I live." A large brown man with prominent cheek bones made this remark from the deck of the Lusitania as the big liner nosed into North river. Not since Dr. Cook shinned down the Oskar's ladder have so many literary gentlemen been abroad on the bay.

They came out to see James Jack son Jeffries, known in some circles av "the hope of the white race."

"You've got to show me that Johnson means business," remarked Jeff playfully cuffing his hencl:man, Berger. "Johnson must show me. I'm sick of this talk. I am tired of discussing the question. I said when I went away that I would sign articles when I got back to New York. Now I'm back and ready to sign any time. That ought to be good enough, ain't it? Get Johnson here, herd him into the same room with me and let's get the names down and the money posted. I'm not fooling and I'm not fourflushing, and I'm not making newspaper talk. It's up to this big black fellow now, because I'm ready."

In justice to Jeff, it must be said that he looks the part.

Jeff was nearly nobbed by his enthusiastic friends at the pier. He bore the ovation with great patience.

Latham Flies One Hundred Miles an Hour.

Blackpool, Eng., Oct. 23.-Hubert Latham, the French aviator, gave an exhibition that first entertained and then terrified the spectators. In a monoplane, Latham battled against a gale that was blowing thirty miles an hour, and he twice circled the course. When Latham came about in the wind, the monoplane was driven at a rate estimated at between eighty and one hundred miles an hour. At one time he barely escaped being carried out to sea. The crowd besought the aviator to come down. When Latham did alight he was not permitted to attempt a further flight while the wind continued high.

Apple Show a Success.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 23.-The Western Montana apple show is ended. The show brought more exhibits from the fruit growers and farmers of Western Montana than had been considered possible. MUSIC AND DRAMA

The Yankee Doodle Stock Company "Tracked Around the World," the bill for tonight at the opera house is one of the most stirring melodramatic thrillers ever presented. There is plenty of gun play and exciting climaxes. Some important documents have been stolen from the safety vault of an American Senator and unless the papers are recovered beforethey fall into the hands of Rus sia, war is imminent. Suspicion of the theft falls upon Jack Thonton. a trusted member of the senatorial staff, who because he has been fortunate in the love of Mary, the Senator's lovely daughter has incurred the hatred of Nelson, the real culprit. Nelson poisons the mind of the Senator against Thonton and then murders the Senator, causing the guilt to be reflected upon Jack Thonton. Bob Roy, the boy detective, averts many calamities and thwarts Nelson and Mme. Arvine an unscrupulous French adventuress

This will be the farewell performance of the Yankee Doodle Stock Company in Brainerd as they leave we will lose most of the benifits of early in the morning for St. Cloud and then return east to Duluth, Superior, Hancock and Calumet. This is one of the best stock companies

> The Western Musical Herald says of Mrs. Jane Catherwood, who will give a recital before the ladies' musical club in the near future:

"The song recital given April 26th by Mrs. Jane Catherwood was a model of program making. Mrs. Catherwood's personality is sweet and attractive and her complete absorption in her work leaves no alternative but compels enjoyment and admiration. Her voice is high and light, making her pianissimo passages exceptionally artistic and showing her scholarly interpretion to the greatest advantage. Throughout the varied and interesting program, the seperate mood of each selection was instantly caught and mirrored to the attentive audience."

Your Collars Shaped Without Breaking Them

It is impossible to break or damage a turn-down collar while shaping it by our new and improved method. The collar reaches the shaping department flat. It is first run through a small machine which deposits a fine penetrating stream of water along the seam, thoroughly softening the starch in the linen. The collar is then bent over, the edge ironed smooth and dry, and curled into shape. The dampened seam prevents any strain upon the linen when the collar is folded. We save your linen.

Novelists and Love.

Charles Lever believed that novelists should retire or at all events refrain from writing love stories in due season. In his fifty-ninth year the author of "Charles O'Malley" writes to his publisher: "What you hint about a real love story is good, but don't forget that Thackeray said that 'no old man must prate about love.' I remember the Duke of Wellington once saying to me, referring to Warren's 'Ten Thousand a Year.' 'It is not that he never had ten thousand a year, but he never knew a man who had.' As to writing about love from memory, it is like counting over the banknotes of a bank long broken. They remind you of money, it is true, but they're only waste paper, after all."-London Mail. Landed.

Agnes-Well, Ferdy has finally proposed. I knew he would.

Ethel-Why, you told me that you thought he had no intention whatever of proposing.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone soot and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial. throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standrd medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glysumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure yonsumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstimate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing.

even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.
Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of gly-

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of Lydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enterbled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (cataorhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach)

IN CRUSADE AGAINST VICE BETWEEN TAFT

Ministers of Butte, Mont., Have Joined Hands.

Butte, Mont, Oct. 23.-The ministers of Butts have joined hands in a censational crusade against vice which has for its announced purpose the driving of every inmate of the resort Clash is Said to Be Rapid'y district from the city.

The clergymen have the upper hand in the situation as was plainly shown when they protested against a resumption of prize fighting in Butte. The local officers were disposed to disregard the protest and the preachers appealed to Governor Norris, who, in an immediate communication to the Filver Bow county officials, intimated 6201 Front street. Wednesday evening that he would instruct the attorney 8 o'clock. All are welcome, Sunday general to begin ouster proceedings general to begin ouster proceedings against such officers as were derelict in their duties. The first result was fighting came down with a bang.

The ministerial association row proposes to appeal to Governor Norris if the local officers show the slightest disposition to evade the law enforcement. The ministers have engaged counsel and will bring suit against all owners of redlight property under a statute which makes it a misdemeanor

The pastors began their campaign with the presentation to the city council of a petition reciting an appalling state of immorality and recounting the essence of what has come under the observation of the ministers who for six weeks virtually have acted in the capacity of an association of sleuths in their effort to lay bare the vice complained of.

TAFT SET A GOOD EXAMPLE

President Commended by the Head of the W. C. T. U.

Omaha, Oct. 23.—President Lillian M. Stevens of the W. C. T. U. featured her report before the thirty-sixth annual convention with a note of congratulation to President Taft for his stand on the temperance question.

In reviewing the action of corporations and organizations in different parts of the country which have placed a ban on the employment of persons addicted to the liquor habit, Mrs. Stevens said:

"There have been nany similar determinations during the year by organizations and prominent individuals, the latest and most notable being that of Mr. Taft, who, soon after his election as president, turned his wine glass down and said it would ever remain so, and in harrony with this action and through his request no liquors were served at the inaugural ball at Washington.

"For Mr. Taft to set the example of total abstinence is cause for great rejoicing by those who care for humanity's weal. It is an example safe and beneficient for all to follow. Mr. Taft is entitled to grateful thanks and appreciation of a thrice grateful nation."

Life of the Happy-go-lucky West Indian Negroes.

LAZY JOY FOR LITTLE WORK

Six Months' Labor Enables Them to Loll in Indolence For a Year and a Half-Combing the Islands For Men For the Sugar Plantations.

A happy-go-lucky, stand up and fall down, genial, inconsequential spirit animates the West Indian negroes in Regard to Plan of Inland Water Imtheir labors and in their begging. From the sweating toilers on the dock at Macoris loading sugar into the steamers, with their warning cry, Would Not Consent to Any Issue of "Bee-low!" to the men in the hold, to the grinning boys hauling their fishing boats up on the beach at Dominica, they live from day to day and take no between President Taft and Speaker thought of the morrow. A West Indian negro with $50 will live for a year and never do a stroke of work. comes more apparant every day. The

And why not? His living costs him only 9 cents a day. He has his little cabin for the occupancy. A mango tree grows in his yard, and he can pick plantains by the road at will. If he is too lazy to bake 5 cents will buy bread for the family for the day, and a few cents more will buy a dozen Evenings 10, 20, 30, & 5 small fish and one large one. A single garment does for the women, and $5 will clothe the man for a year, while the pickaninnies run as God made

The West Indies are the paradise of the happy loafer. Every year the islands are combed from end to end for hands to work the great sugar plantations in Santo Domingo, and at that the negroes must often be practically kidnaped to get them on the boats.

In November of each year the sugar boats, little sloops and schooners that spend the remainder of the year trading among the islands get into the Santo Domingo negro trade. Their captains and supercargoes, when they have them, and the owners go up and down the islands telling the negroes that on a certain day the vessel will sail for Santo Domingo and take all who want to go to work on the sugar plantations.

Take the little island of St. Martin's for illustration. For a week the island is combed, and on the appointed day a dozen sloops and schooners are crowded into Marigot bay. The night before the negroes have begun to stream into the little town that sleeps through the year, waiting for this one day to bring it to life. Boards are laid across boxes, and rum and whisky are set out to arouse the negroes to the pitch that will carry them out to the vessels bound for the plantations.

All day the men stream into the town, traveling barefooted along the sandy roads, swept in by the sailors, singing their song of riches to be had or the asking. Ahead of the men walk their women, toting heavy boxes on their heads, while the men are dresin their best, with a cocky straw but perched on one ear, swinging a dance cane and carrying their shoes in their hands. At the outskirts of the town they put on their shoes and swing gayly up to the open air bars on the

The women lug the big boxes down to the beach and wail at being left alone until they, too, become filled with the excitement of the scene and urge their men folks on. The men hang back and laugh and drink and deny that they are going.

"Is you goin', Big Tawm?" "Naw, Ah ain' goin'. Ah jus' come

"Yas, yo' is goin', Big Tawm. Git in

"Come on heah, boy. Ya, ha!" And all the time the rowboats, load-

By sundown the beach is swept clean and six little sloops and a schooner make sail and drift out of the harbor on a dying breeze, loaded down on trial on a charge of forgery. He with a thousand black men and women, who will wake in the morning was repeatedly warned by the court with a raging thirst. Then woe be to for his methods of cross-examining witnesses, and for his references to the captain who has not filled his water casks, for there is sure to be at least one body to be given to the sharks Judge Holt refused to listen to after the fight around the butts! Cary's friends, and no amount of bail

When the vessels drop anchor off Macoris the plantation foremen come off and look over the cargoes and pay the shipmasters $2.50 each for passage money for the negroes. Then the blacks are herded ashore and are credited with 30 cents a day for a month for working from sunrise to sunset in the cane fields. By that time the $2.50 passage money is paid back. Then they receive their 30 cents a day in cash for the next six months until the cutting and grinding season is over, when the sloops show up again and take them to their homes for $2.50 each, paid in advance.

The foremen collect from the plantation owners 63 cents a day each for pay for the black hands, but with their share of the money the negroes can live for a year and a half before they have to think of doing another day's work. And they do it. Year after year the trade is plied, and the islands are combed for men for the plantations, and year after year the negroes return home to eighteen months of lazy joy.-New York Tribune.
